

The Blended Retirement System

Continuation Pay

The National Defense Authorization Act in 2016 created the Blended Retirement System, or BRS. Service members covered under the BRS may be eligible to receive a one-time, midcareer bonus payment in exchange for an agreement to perform additional obligated service. This one-time bonus payment is in addition to any other career field-specific incentives or retention bonuses.

Continuation Pay Basics

Continuation pay is a direct cash payout, like a bonus, available to service members covered under the BRS. It is targeted at the midcareer mark, payable between completion of eight years of service, but before completion of 12 years of service (calculated from a service member's pay entry base date). Most service members under the BRS will be eligible for continuation pay, but each service determines the timing and the amount. This pay is in exchange for a commitment of a minimum of three additional years of service. If a service member receives continuation pay and does not fulfill the service agreement, some of the continuation pay may have to be refunded.

Key Considerations

Eligibility. This one-time payout is available to active-duty, National Guard and reserve service members covered under the BRS with between eight and 12 years of service who are able to enter into an agreement to perform additional obligated service.

Amount. Active-duty service members may be eligible for a continuation pay multiplier of 2.5 to 13 times their monthly basic pay. Members of the National Guard or reserves in drilling status may be eligible to receive a multiplier of 0.5 to 6 times their monthly basic pay (as if serving on active duty). Continuation pay rates are updated annually.

Pay rates. Pay-rate multipliers may be based on service-specific retention needs, specialty skills and hard-to-fill positions, similar to career field incentives and reenlistment bonuses. Each service will determine and publish its own guidance on continuation pay.

Investing. Continuation pay, along with other specialty pays, bonuses and incentives, can be invested into your Thrift Savings Plan or other investment account, up to the annual maximum allowed by the IRS.

Note: If you hit the maximum too quickly, you could lose out on government automatic and matching contributions.
